ITEM 4 - ADVISORY BUSINESS

Firm Description

Telarray, formerly FSG Investment Management, is a Tennessee Limited Liability Company that engages in the business of investment management principally for individuals, trusts, estates and charitable organizations. Telarray has been in business since June, 2005. Telarray specializes in implementing asset class portfolios for clients. Financial planning is provided to clients of the firm.

Principal Owners

Ownership of Telarray consists of the original owners as well as certain employees of the firm. No one owner owns 25% or more of the firm.

Types of Advisory Services

Investment Management Services

Telarray manages client investments using a model portfolio process. A series of similar investment portfolios have been developed containing funds holding equity securities (stocks), bonds, and other investments such as real estate securities. Advisors and clients together select portfolios using varying exposure to cash and bonds as the primary way to match expected volatility to client needs and preferences.

Telarray takes steps to mitigate the impact of taxes. We are sensitive to asset location, and attempt to place less tax-efficient investments in tax-deferred or tax-free accounts when practicable. Telarray also is careful to consider capital gains when selling positions and tracks tax lots rather than simple average cost. Telarray also conducts tax loss harvesting operations periodically to create realized losses which can be applied against current or future realized gains.

Accounts managed by Telarray are held by third party custodians who maintain the custody of the assets. You will receive reports from both Telarray and the third party custodian, allowing you to easily compare the balances reported by Telarray to the balance reported by the third party. Having your accounts with a third party custodian helps to protect your assets from misappropriation.

Many of our clients hold assets that we do not manage, such as stock in the company they work for or individual stocks they do not want to sell. We assist clients by opening unmanaged accounts. Having the assets in an account that we are attached to allows us to monitor trading activity and assist in any eventual liquidation of the asset at the direction of the client. Unmanaged accounts are not included in the total asset balance used to calculate the fee for our services. We provide this service as a convenience to our clients.

We generally avoid customizing individual client allocations unless necessary so that focus of our investment team is not diluted and we can offer our best ideas to all clients. An example of a change we might make is to exclude Real Estate Investment Trusts for a real estate investor who has substantial exposure to commercial real estate outside of the portfolio we manage. Any change of this nature would be agreed to by both parties and documented.

Financial Planning Services

We provide financial planning to our clients. We test scenarios with our proprietary Observatory engine to see if lifestyle and retirement goals are feasible based on spending, saving, gifting and estate planning choices. We also test decision points around options such as paying off mortgages or large purchases. We have considerable expertise and expert networks to facilitate client tax and estate planning.

Client Assets Under Management

As of December 31, 2020, we managed on a discretionary basis $978,147,753 in portfolio assets for 631 clients. This total includes $135,005,903 in assets over which Telarray does not exercise discretionary authority even though they are held in accounts over which Telarray has discretionary authority. These assets are held in discretionary accounts for the convenience of the clients but, we do not exercise discretion per agreement with the client. We refer to this group of assets as unmanaged assets, and we do not charge a fee related to those assets.

ITEM 5 - FEES AND COMPENSATION

We are a fee only investment advisory firm and we are compensated for our services based on the market value of the accounts and assets that we manage. Typically, the fee is only assessed on the asset class portfolio that we have implemented. The assets included in the fee calculation do include assets held in company plans (e.g. 401(k), 403(b), deferred comp, etc.) that are managed as part of the overall portfolio. The fee structure as an annual percentage of the assets under management for these services is as follows:

First $ 500,000	1.00%
Next $ 500,000	0.95%
Next $1,000,000	0.90%
Next $1,000,000	0.80%
Next $1,000,000	0.70%
Next $1,000,000	0.60%
Next $1,000,000	0.50%

Next $1,000,000	0.40%
Next $1,000,000	0.30%
All Else	0.20%

The percentages shown are annual percentages. Fees are calculated monthly with 1/12th of the annual calculation due in arrears each month. Fees are based on the managed value of the account at the end of the billing period. We may also quote a flat percentage fee that varies from the above schedule. There is no acceptance or termination charge other than the cost of registration and delivery of securities involved. We reserve the right to modify the above fee schedule.

Fees are collected in arrears on a monthly basis and are typically deducted from a taxable managed account held at a third party custodian. An invoice detailing the calculation of the fee is posted on the firm web site each month unless the client does not have web access, in which case we mail a copy of the bill to the client. Clients receive a notice via e-mail when the bill is posted. Clients can also write a check for the Telarray fee instead of having it deducted from their account.

Telarray's fees are exclusive of brokerage commissions, transaction fees, and other related costs and expenses which will be incurred by the client. Clients may incur certain charges imposed by custodians, brokers, third party investment and other third parties such as fees charged by managers, custodial fees, deferred sales charges, odd-lot differentials, transfer taxes, wire transfer and electronic fund fees, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. Mutual funds and exchange traded funds also charge internal management fees, which are disclosed in a fund's prospectus. Such charges, fees and commissions are exclusive of and in addition to Telarray's fee, and Telarray does not receive any portion of those commissions, fees and costs.

ITEM 12 – BROKERAGE PRACTICES further describes the factors that Telarray considers in selecting or recommending broker-dealers for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions).

ITEM 6 - PERFORMANCE BASED FEES

Telarray does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation of the assets of a client).

ITEM 7 - TYPES OF CLIENTS

Telarray provides portfolio management services to individuals, high net worth individuals, charitable institutions, foundations, trusts, profit sharing plans and retirement plans.

Telarray currently has a minimum account size, but reserves the right to waive the minimum portfolio size under certain circumstances.

ITEM 8 - METHODS OF ANALYSIS, INVESTMENT STRATEGIES AND RISK OF LOSS

1. Strategic Asset Allocation: Telarray primarily uses a mutual fund and ETF-based model portfolio approach in managing client portfolios. In this approach, a client's return objectives, risk tolerance, and investment constraints are integrated with long-run capital market expectations to select a portfolio allocation. The portfolios are periodically rebalanced to model.

Telarray applies the results of academic research regarding factor exposure. Our globally diversified portfolios endeavor to provide favorable long-term performance often in excess of the performance of market capitalization weighted portfolios. We believe in the long run our approach will outperform market-weighted portfolios but acknowledge that there are no guarantees in investing.

2. Tactical Asset Allocation: When deemed appropriate based on a Client's risk tolerance and investment objectives, Telarray may employ a more active approach in conjunction with the strategic asset allocation. This tactical approach involves allocation to broad index based ETFs based on research that indicates short-term market trends tend to persist.

Telarray's tactical asset allocation is completely rules-based and systematic to avoid recency bias and emotion. We do not attempt to time the market or predict future market directions.

3. Asset Classes: Telarray constructs portfolios using only approved asset classes which may include but are not limited to the following:

- Cash
- Short Term Fixed Income
- Intermediate Term Fixed Income
- Long Term Fixed Income
- Inflation Protected Fixed Income
- Domestic Large and Small Cap Equities
- International Large and Small Cap Equities
- Emerging Market Equities
- Real Estate Investment Trusts
- Precious Metals

4. Evaluation of Fund Managers: Telarray uses a combination of mutual funds and exchange traded funds (ETFs) to gain necessary investment exposure. Fund managers are evaluated through a combination of various quantitative and qualitative criteria which may include the following:

- Investment philosophy and approach to the selection of securities
- Expenses and management fees
- Assets under management
- Years of tenure as manager
- Turnover and its impact on after-tax returns
- Public or private ownership
- Historical and future expected returns
- Magnitude of drawdown periods
- Risk adjusted return measures such as Sharpe and Sortino Ratio
- Style purity

5. Restrictions: Telarray does not currently make use of managed futures, hedge funds, or privately-held real estate as separate asset classes. Also, Telarray does not currently make specific use of currency hedges, swaps, forwards or futures contracts although derivatives may be used as necessary to gain specific market. Telarray does not actively take short positions against specific securities.

6. Types of Risks: Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

Investment in bonds, whether through individual bonds, mutual funds or ETFs carries risks. One risk is income risk, the risk that interest will decline and income from the bonds will decline. Another risk is interest rate risk, the risk that bond prices will decline because of rising interest rates. Security selection risk or manager risk is the risk that poor security selection will cause the bonds to underperform. Credit risk is also present; as the credit rating of an issuer declines, it may result in a decline in the market price of a bond.

Investment in equities carries risks. Market risk is the most salient and well known. Even a long-term investment approach cannot guarantee a profit. Economic, political, and issuer specific events will cause the market value of individual companies, and the funds that hold them, to fluctuate. Because the values will fluctuate, there is the risk that you can lose money if you are forced to sell a security before it has recovered in price. Another risk includes the possible use of derivatives in the mutual fund. A derivative is a security whose value is derived from that of other securities or indices. Futures contracts are an example of a derivative. Derivative securities are exposed to a variety of risks including: liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risks and the risk of improper valuation. Changes in the value of the derivative may not correlate perfectly with the underlying asset, rate or index and the portfolio could lose more than the principal amount invested. Securities lending is another risk that may be present. Securities lending involves the risk that the borrower of the securities may fail to return the securities in a timely manner or at all. As a result, the fund may lose money and there could be a delay in recovering the loaned securities. In the meantime, losses could be incurred due to the collateral falling in value.

More detailed information about specific risks is contained in the prospectus for each investment implemented in your portfolio. For a copy of these prospectus, please contact your advisor.

ITEM 9 - DISCIPLINARY INFORMATION

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Telarray or the integrity of Telarray's management.

ITEM 10 - OTHER FINANCIAL INDUSTRY ACTIVITIES AND AFFILIATIONS

Two of the owners of Telarray, Mr. Paessler and Mr. Shaul, also own Paessler Shaul, LLC ("PS"). Mr. Paessler and Mr. Shaul developed proprietary planning software to help people understand what their financial future might look like given their financial assumptions. The software has been service marked by PS as the Observatory model. Using the Observatory model, clients can compare the results of various financial alternatives and make an informed decision. The software uses asset class investing and looks back at historical quarterly rolling periods of history. Clients have found the software immensely helpful in making decisions about their savings, retirement, benefits, lifestyle, etc. PS continues to make changes to the model to make it more flexible and take into account changes that occur in various company benefit plans. PS makes the Observatory model available to Telarray for use with their clients. The availability of the model allows Telarray to determine the amount of risk (quantity of equities) someone needs to have in their portfolio in order to have acceptable historical results. While history is not a predictor of the future it is one of the only things we can look at to determine the potential impact of decisions and to model the variability of returns over time. The goal is for clients to take no more risk within an investment portfolio than is required. This relationship has proven to be beneficial to both firms and to the clients of the firms.

ITEM 11 - CODE OF ETHICS, PARTICIPATION OR INTEREST IN CLIENT TRANSACTIONS AND PERSONAL TRADING

Telarray has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct, and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, a prohibition of rumor mongering, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts and the reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at Telarray must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

To align our interests, Telarray's employee 401(k) plan is invested in a model portfolio that is available and implemented by clients. Telarray's employees and persons associated with Telarray are required to follow Telarray's Code of Ethics. Subject to satisfying this policy and applicable laws, officers, directors and employees of Telarray and its affiliates may trade for their own accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for Telarray's clients. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities and interests of the employees of Telarray will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Employee trading is monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between Telarray and its clients.

Telarray employees and persons associated with Telarray are also prohibited from trading the stock of a group of companies where employees of those companies are clients of Telarray. This policy is in effect to avoid any possible appearance of trading on insider information.

Telarray's clients or prospective clients may request a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics by contacting Mr. Richard Paessler, President and Chief Compliance Officer, at rpaessler@telarrayadvisors.com.

It is Telarray's policy that the firm will not effect any cross securities transactions for client accounts. Telarray will also not cross trades between client accounts. Cross securities transactions are generally defined as transactions where an adviser, buys from or sells any security in one client's account to any other advisory client. A cross security transaction may also be deemed to have occurred if a security is crossed between an affiliate and another client account.

ITEM 12 - BROKERAGE PRACTICES

Telarray will conduct both qualitative and quantitative analysis of the brokers used to trade in clients' accounts. The overall intent is to ensure best overall execution for the client. The Company considers the full range and quality of the broker's service in selecting brokers to meet best execution obligations, and may not always pay the lowest commission rate available. As a starting point, though, the primary consideration is the trade price and commission quoted by the brokers. These things being fairly equal among brokers, the following qualitative factors are considered when performing Telarray's periodic and systematic evaluation of its brokerage arrangements and the execution quality of client trades:

- Ability to maintain the confidentiality of trading intentions
- Timeliness of execution
- Timeliness and accuracy of trade confirmations

- Liquidity of the securities traded
- Willingness to commit capital
- Ability to place trades in difficult market environments
- Execution facilitation services provided
- Record keeping services provided
- Custody services provided
- Frequency and correction of trading errors
- Ability to access a variety of market venues
- Expertise as it relates to specific securities
- Financial condition

Transactions in client company plans must be done with the custodian/broker chosen by the plan. Telarray and the client have no other choice. Because of this limitation, we may not be able to achieve the most favorable execution of client transactions and the costs incurred in the plan account may be higher than if the transaction could be executed with another broker.

The Chief Investment Officer evaluates the broker-dealers selected by Telarray semi-annually and presents his evaluation to the investment committee. The evaluation includes a comparison to alternative choices and consideration is given to non-financial criteria as well as cost.

Telarray does not accept or utilize soft dollar arrangements. However, Telarray participates in the Schwab Institutional program ("Schwab") sponsored by Charles Schwab ("the Program"). Clients in need of brokerage and custodial services will open Schwab accounts by default. The commission and transaction fee schedule for Schwab is competitively priced when compared to other brokerage institutions and considering the services provided by Schwab. Telarray makes the recommendation based on the needs of the clients and the services provided by Schwab such as the ability to execute trades, margin rates, on-line access to accounts, transaction charges, consolidated reporting, duplicate monthly statements, access to mutual funds, including lower sales charges than for direct purchases and lower minimum purchase amounts. There is no direct affiliation between the investment advice given to clients and Telarray's participation in the Program, however, other products and services discussed below are received by Telarray which would not be received if the advisor did not give investment advice to clients and participate in the Program. Some of these other products and services assist Telarray in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements), facilitate trade execution, pricing information and other market data, facilitate payment of Telarray's fees from its clients' accounts and assist with back office support, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of Telarray's clients accounts. Schwab may also provide Telarray with information and consulting services intended to help Telarray manage and further develop its business. The services may include technology consulting and regulatory compliance publications and presentations. The availability to Telarray of the products and services is not contingent upon Telarray committing to brokerage any specific amount of business. However, because Telarray does not have to produce or pay for the research, products or services, and instead they are paid by client commissions and other client costs, Telarray may have an incentive to select or recommend Schwab based on our interest in receiving such research and services, rather than on our clients' interest in receiving more favorable execution.

ITEM 13 - REVIEW OF ACCOUNTS

The Chief Investment Officer ("CIO") is responsible for evaluating securities for investment, reviewing clients' managed portfolios, creating asset allocations and security recommendations for review by the Investment Committee ("IC") and ensuring that transactions are properly executed.

Telarray invests client portfolios principally through the use of open-end mutual funds and ETFs. The mutual funds used are periodically reviewed and, if necessary, the CIO recommends changes to the IC which reviews the recommendation and gives final approval. No recommendations are made relative to the transactions of securities in unmanaged accounts or unmanaged assets. Telarray is attached to unmanaged accounts for the convenience of the client and for reporting purposes.

Account Review Procedures

Telarray utilizes a team approach to managing and serving client accounts. The client's advisor has primary oversight responsibility for clients, with support from the President, CIO, Manager of Client Services and the Vice President of Client Reporting as well as other contributors, teams and firm resources.

Client activity is reconciled daily, including transactions, deposits and all other cash flows in and out of the account. Client portfolios are monitored weekly for deviation from model portfolios to identify rebalancing opportunities. Opportunities for tax loss harvesting are monitored quarterly and also during any significant market volatility.

At least quarterly the CIO, will review Telarray's portfolios, specifically looking for irregularities and unexpected weightings in client portfolios. In addition, performance analyses is conducted to ensure that all accounts with similar investment objectives are performing within a reasonable band of returns.

Clients are requested to contact Telarray any time they have a significant change in their financial picture. The Advisor along with other necessary Telarray personnel will meet with the client to update their Observatory and determine what, if any, changes need to be made to the client's portfolio. Other changes to the portfolio may be initiated by Telarray personnel based on market conditions. Any change to an overall client allocation is done after consultation with the client.

Client Reporting

A copy of the client's consolidated investment portfolio is posted on Telarray's secure website on a daily basis.

Quarterly reports are also posted to the secure website and they include a list of managed and unmanaged accounts, a consolidated investment portfolio statement that shows positions and unit values, return data for the portfolio for the quarter, year to date, last 12 months, last 5 years and since inception of the relationship, and a graphic showing the relationship of the client's net investment and the value of the accounts since inception of the relationship with Telarray. Clients also receive quarterly letters related to the market. All of the reports are written and are posted on the secure website. Some clients prefer paper copies and those are mailed at the end of each quarter. The daily report is not available except on the website.

Clients also receive reports from the third party custodians which can be compared to the Telarray reports. We strongly encourage clients to compare the 2 different reports and to report any discrepancies to us if any are noted. The third party custodian reports are in a variety of forms as directed by the client. Included in those reports, on not less than a quarterly basis, are the number of units, the value per unit, and total value of each investment, trades executed in each account during the period, and contributions and withdrawals.

ITEM 14 - CLIENT REFERRALS AND OTHER COMPENSATION

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose if someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Telarray for providing investment advice or other advisory services to our clients or if Telarray compensates any person for client referrals. Telarray receives no such benefit or compensates any person for client referrals.

ITEM 15 - CUSTODY

Client funds are held by third party custodians (Charles Schwab, company plan sponsors, etc.). Nonetheless, because clients may authorize Telarray to directly deduct fees from client assets or arrange funds to be directed to third parties at the instruction of clients, Telarray has custody. Telarray downloads activity on a daily basis from the custodians to maintain a system where consolidated statements can be created and returns calculated. The third party custodians provide statements directly to clients. We also provide clients with information that can be compared to the statements sent to them by their third party custodian. Telarray personnel reconcile third party custodian records to Telarray's records not less than monthly. However, Telarray strongly recommends that clients compare the balance on their third party custodian statement to their Telarray statement to ensure that there are no discrepancies. If there are any discrepancies please notify Richard Paessler, President, at 901-531-7423 or rpaessler@telarrayadvisors.com immediately.

ITEM 16 - INVESTMENT DISCRETION

Telarray receives discretionary authority to manage securities accounts on behalf of clients. The authority is received via limited powers of attorney either included in the third party custodian account documents or in a separate document for company plan accounts. The limitations allow Telarray to buy or sell securities in the account, transfer money to an account with the same name and/or to collect their monthly fee from the account.

Clients may also have unmanaged accounts to which Telarray is attached. The client agreement with Telarray prohibits Telarray from exercising investment discretion with unmanaged assets.

ITEM 17 - VOTING CLIENT SECURITIES

Telarray votes, where possible, proxies for managed portfolio securities held in managed accounts. Investments held in Company Plan accounts are controlled by the third party custodian. Neither Telarray nor clients have the authority to vote proxies on securities held in those accounts. Proxy voting for assets held in unmanaged accounts is the responsibility of the client and they will receive the proxies or other solicitations directly from their custodians.

Proxy voting is performed by the CIO or a delegate. Proxy votes are cast to maximize shareholder value based on our review of the matter being considered. We pay particular attention to non-routine matters that directly affect fund investment strategy. We do not always vote with management. Clients cannot direct our vote in any particular solicitation since the vote covers all shares that we manage. While conflicts of interest on proxies may occur, the use of mutual funds and ETFs in the portfolio significantly reduces any potential conflict. If there is a conflict we again look at the matter and cast the vote in the manner that we believe maximizes shareholder value. Clients can obtain a copy of our proxy voting policies and procedures by requesting a copy from Richard Paessler at rpaessler@telarrayadvisors.com. Clients may also obtain information about how we voted proxies by contacting Richard Paessler at rpaessler@telarrayadvisors.com.

ITEM 18 - FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Telarray has never been the subject of a bankruptcy petition. However, should at some future date Telarray file for bankruptcy or should the company become unprofitable and additional capital is not available, Telarray may no longer be able to meet its contractual commitments to clients.

On April 16, 2020, Telarray received a Paycheck Protection Plan (PPP) Loan through the SBA in the amount of $390,456.05 in conjunction with the relief afforded under the CARES Act. Telarray used the PPP loan proceeds in accordance with the terms of the loan program and Telarray did not suffer any interruption of service.

ADDITIONAL DISCLOSURES

Business Continuity/Disaster Recovery Plan

Telarray will simply set up in a location that has internet connectivity and will post on the website the best way for you to contact them. Location will be determined by the extent of the disaster. This plan is tested on an annual basis.

If someone who is not a client provides an economic benefit to Mr. Kratz for providing advisory services then disclosure of that arrangement is required. For purposes of this Item, economic benefits include sales awards and other prizes, but do not include the individual's regular salary. Any bonus that is based, at least in part, on the number or amount of sales, client referrals, or new accounts should be considered an economic benefit, but other regular bonuses should not. Mr. Kratz receives no such compensation.

SUPERVISION

Mr. Kratz is active in giving advice to clients and monitoring of the advice given by him and/or other individuals with client contact is done several ways. First, there are standard presentations and tools that are used to answer questions for clients. Second, Client Services and other individuals are copied on e-mails in which advice is given and those e-mails are retained in the client relationship management system. Third, whenever a meeting is held with a client we always attempt to have 2 firm representatives in the meeting whenever possible. Separation of duties within the firm also assists with the monitoring of advice given. If anyone feels any advice given by Mr. Kratz is a problem they can notify Mr. Richard Paessler, President of Telarray. Mr. Richard Paessler can be contacted at 901-531-7423 or via e-mail at cpaessler@telarrayadvisors.com.
